

The battle's fierce today

Trans. fr. Chinese

1. The bat - tle's fierce to - day, Sa - tan is strong - er;
 2. Tri - als grow more bit - ter, fight - ing doth en - large;
 3. Hard - er to tes - ti - fy His word at the end,
 4. Who then will for - ward go, thru his might - y pow'r?
 5. Who then will choose God's best, take the nar - row track,

The cry of bat - tle is loud - er than be - Hell ral - lies their pow - ers and gath - ers for the Sa - tan fights with all his pow'r, our wit - ness to
 Who will firm - ly trust the Lord 'til the vict - 'ry
 Pass - ing thru the wild storms, yet nev - er turn - ing fore. The reb - el voice of hell charge. Yet while we wait and watch, de - fy. Much great - er strength we need,

 hour? Till with the Con - qu'rors blest, back? Who now will dare press on,

be - comes more se - vere, But mid - night cry feel the war se - vere, Hear the joy - ful the foe to o'er - come; Hap - py when the tri - umph song's be - gun? That man re - joices en - dure pain and fear? Such will re - joice re - sounds, I quick - ly come!

 song rings, Je - sus Lord is near!
 Lord comes, all our sigh - ing's done.
 to hear, I quick - ly come!
 to see, Je - sus Lord is near!

6. Though deep the darkness be, We would onward go,
 Till the day of rapture greet, glory 'round shall glow!
 'Tis there we'll see the Lord, Satan overcome;
 Overcomers rejoice, Jesus Lord, has come!
